

SRA Chief Defends Relief Fund Plea

BULLETIN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—By a five-to-four vote, the assembly committee on social service and welfare today gave favorable recommendation to an administration bill to appropriate $4,050,000 for continuation of state unemployment relief through the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—The facts and figures on relief were presented to the legislature today as Relief Administrator H. Dewey Anderson sought to justify an administration request for $4,053,000 additional to finance relief through June.

BARBER SHOPS OPEN PENDING AGREEMENT

Barber shops of the city were opened shortly after noon today at the request of a citizens' committee meeting with representatives of the barbers and Jesse James Kerby, owner of the "25-cent haircut shop," who told the committee members he will give them a definite answer to all conciliation requests before 10 a.m. Monday.

The meeting was called this morning at the city hall and was attended by Fred Merker, past president of the chamber of commerce; A. N. Zerman, Phil M. Brown, secretary of the Business Men's association; Dale Deckert, and Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

At noon today Kerby refused to make any definite statement of his position until Monday morning. Following the meeting at the city hall, Henry Johnson and Alvin L. Holt, representing the barbers, presented the committee's request to a meeting of barbers and announced the decision to re-open shortly before 1 p.m.

So far as an amicable permanent settlement of the problem is concerned, the situation remained at a dead-lock. Speaking for the barbers, Johnson told the committee that he was certain that "if Kerby would raise his price to 40 cents, the other downtown shops would make theirs 50 cents, and the affair would be settled."

SELECTS GROUP IN CRIME WAR

Giving new impetus to the program already under way for the study and prevention of crime among juveniles in Orange county, a special county-wide committee of attorneys, to form a unit of the California Bar association's general committee devoted to juvenile delinquency, was named yesterday by Donald D. Harwood, well known Santa Ana attorney, recently appointed chairman by the state bar.

Committeemen, chosen for their interest in juvenile welfare, to represent Orange county, are: Judge Homer G. Ames of the superior court into whose jurisdiction comes most of the juvenile cases; George F. Holden, district attorney; Col. M. B. Wellington, president of the Orange county council of Boy Scouts; Robert Gardner, city judge of Newport Beach and Raymond Thompson, past president of the Orange County Bar association and city attorney of Fullerton.

The committee of lawyers, which will work in close cooperation with city, county, church, civic club and school authorities in the state-wide war against juvenile delinquency, will convene at an early date to outline its campaign.

Finley and Utt In Border 'Panic'

The trials and tribulations of the traveler, always meat for the fiction writers, were the basis of a real-life comic skit yesterday involving two vacationing Santa Anans. The characters involved were former Assemblyman James B. Utt and his brother-in-law Leland Finley. Having sent papers to obtain new license plates, Finley was unable to prove car ownership at the border. Mexican authorities were suspicious, and detained the pair. Utt frantically telephoned to New Orleans where they will attend a meeting of the American College of Physicians of which Dr. Tedstrom is a member. The meeting begins Monday and lasts through next Friday. The Tedstroms will travel by way of Sacramento and Denver, will stop at Little Rock, Ark., to visit Dr. Tedstrom's parents, and at Marshall, Tex., to visit Mrs. Tedstrom's parents. Following the New Orleans meeting, the local couple will go to Mexico City on a sight-seeing tour, will return home April 12.

There are on the average more than 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline sold to the American public each year.

TEDSTROM ON TRIP
Dr. Milo K. Tedstrom and Mrs. Tedstrom left by train last night for New Orleans where they will attend a meeting of the American College of Physicians of which Dr. Tedstrom is a member. The meeting begins Monday and lasts through next Friday. Partners In New Legal Firm

PRESTON TURNER, LESLIE WALD OPEN NEW LAW OFFICES HERE

Formal opening of the new law firm of Turner and Wald, in the First National Bank Building, was announced today by Preston Turner, who yesterday closed more than nine years of service in the county district attorney's office by winning a $34,730 flood damage suit.

Turner's partner in the firm is Leslie H. Wald, 23-year-old Juris Doctor, or Doctor of Laws, who completed his legal training at the University of Chicago in 1937.

Other Bar Exams

Wald, who came to Santa Ana in April of 1938, has achieved an unusual record for legal ability and has passed the state bar examination in California, Colorado and Illinois.

Turner, a resident of the city since 1925, has the distinction of serving under five different district attorneys, being first appointed deputy district attorney by the late Z. B. West in 1930.

Since that time he has been engaged in county legal work. Under former District Attorney W. F. Menton, Turner was placed in the capacity of assistant district attorney.

With Title Company

Admitted to the California bar by motion upon his record as an attorney in the state of Arizona, Turner was employed by the Abstract and Title Insurance company from 1926 to 1928, at which time he went into private practice until his appointment to the county law department. He studied for two years at Oklahoma A and M and later in a law office for his legal training.

The establishment of the legal firm comes as a birthday gift to Wald who celebrated his 23rd anniversary on Wednesday.

PLANS TO FILL BROCK VACANCY

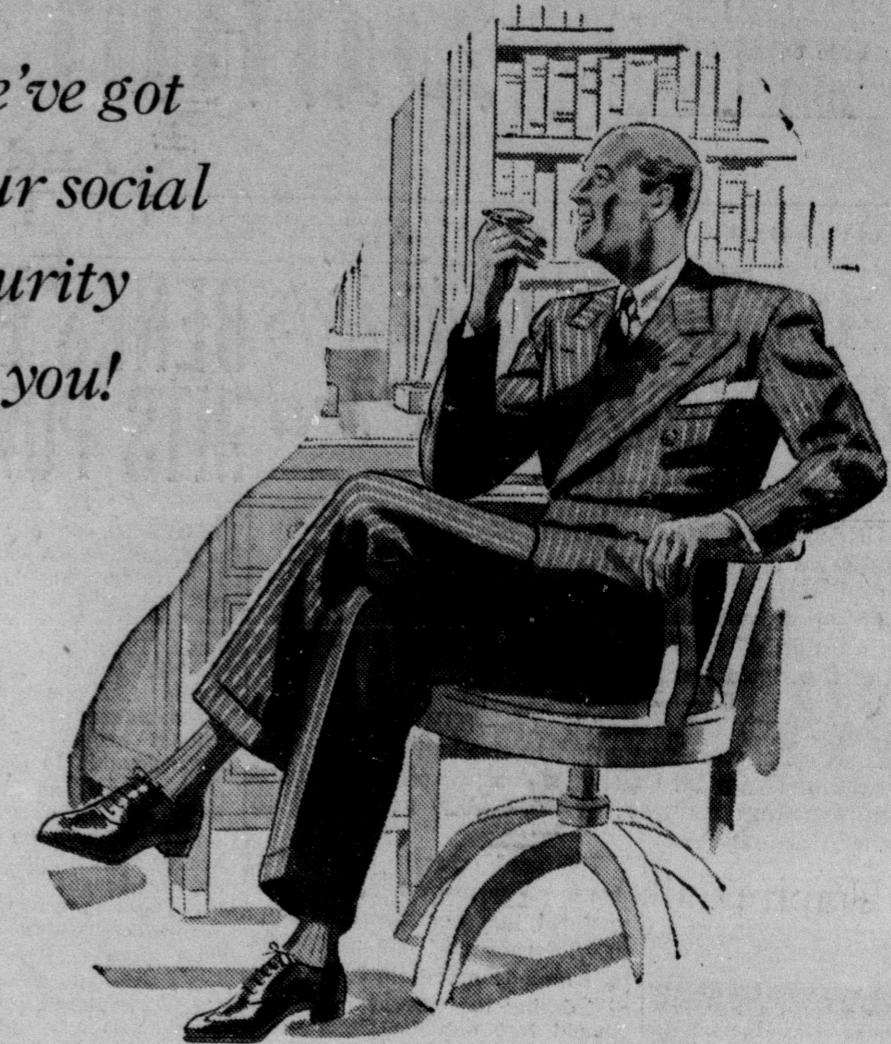

Successor to Anson A. Brock, state director of agriculture, who announced his resignation as state director of agriculture in Sacramento yesterday, is expected to be named by Governor Olson within the next few days.

In tendering his resignation to Olson, Brock offered to serve until April 1 or until such time as it was convenient for the governor to name his successor.

According to reports, William Parker, of Berkeley, who has been connected with the agricultural adjustment administration since its inception, has been suggested for the post.

Brock was agricultural commissioner of Orange county before taking the state position, being appointed by the late Governor Ralph in February of 1933. Brock has announced he expects to remain in Sacramento and practice law after he retires from state office. He was succeeded in the county office by the present commissioner, Dixon W. Tubbs.

COUNTY WOMEN PLAN CONCLAVE

An all day civic conference on the general subject of "Democracy" will be held in Santa Ana March 30 under auspices of the Orange County League of Women Voters. It was announced here today by Mrs. Carl Mock, program chairman for the event.

The conference will be held at the Ebell clubhouse with a luncheon served at noon and a morning and afternoon session. It is date undertaken by the League of Women Voters, and widespread interest already has been manifested in the affair.

Mrs. Felton Browning, president of the league, has announced the following committees, the members of which are all actively at work: program, Mrs. Mock and Mrs. Louis Vorhis; tickets, Mrs. J. E. Paul, Mrs. J. D. Campbell; luncheon, Miss Louise Tubbs, Mrs. B. B. Walbridge; publicity, Mrs. Thomas F. Crocker, Mrs. Frank Rospaw; hospitality, Mrs. David Carmichael, Mrs. W. T. Lambert, Mrs. P. R. Arnold.

Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from members of the league.

Hofwyl, in Switzerland, and Krumau, in Bohemia, both established in 1797, were the two earliest agricultural colleges.

Shure An' It's Barber's Holiday!

Part of the barbers who yesterday "enjoyed" a holiday are shown in the picture above as they contemplated the shop of Jesse James Kerby whose establishment was the only one in town open for business. The barbers declared a holiday virtually on St. Patrick's eve in protest to Kerby's trimming of his trimming prices from 50 cents to the price shown in the picture. Conciliation plans were being formulated at noon today.

Harrison Estate Set At $59,052

Inventory and appraisal of the L. B. Harrison estate, filed today in superior court by Howard Irwin, state appraiser, gave a total valuation of $59,052.96, of which the L. B. Harrison wholesale tobacco, candy and supply business, at 118 East Fifth street, comprises $57,909.39.

The company also has a warehouse and office in Huntington Park. Irwin's inventory listed, in addition, furniture and effects in homes in Orange and Laguna Beach.

England is the world's largest importer of apples, grapefruit, oranges and pears.

Burglar Granted 3-Year Probation

J. B. Wells, confessed burglar of the Walter Jost home in Huntington Beach last month, was placed on three years probation today by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, on condition that he return to his former home in Oklahoma and stay there.

Meanwhile, until he does go, he must spend his time in the Orange county jail. When he obtains funds to finance his journey he will be released.

His confederate, Clifford Angel, will receive his hearing in court March 31.

Police News

Arrested by Officers F. L. Grouard and John Casey last night, Edmundo Covarubias, 23, a butcher of 1214½ East Third, was charged with disturbing the peace. He was arrested on a bench warrant. Released upon furnishing $20 bail, the defendant was under order to appear in city court next Monday at 10 a. m.

Although the James Lukens' of 1323 Maple avenue found two doors of their home open when they returned home early this morning, they reported no loot apparently was taken. They believe a burglar left the doors open, according to police reports.

A man who thumbed his way into Santa Ana yesterday thumbed his way out, also yesterday, according to police reports. Upon report of a local citizen that a transient was loitering along the railroad tracks at 20th street, Officers Richard M. Bradley and Herman Stahl investigated, found the car also was taken. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and A. F. Vincent Rago, 44, of Hot Springs, Ark., making a pot of coffee, the night to forestall a possible Rago said he had just thumbed car theft.

Twenty-five persons will be employed for a period of 12 months in excavating Indian burial grounds and camp sites. The Fullerton district will provide transportation for the workers, office space and both field and office equipment, with the WPA providing the workers. John Winterbourne of Tustin will be in charge. All artifacts will become the property of the Fullerton district.

Of the 130 camp sites and burial grounds mapped out, approximately eight have been excavated. Definite belief exists that the culture of the Indians who lived in the southern part of Orange county differed from that of the Indians of the northern part, it was said today.

LA HABRA, March 17.—Members of the Wimo Dasi club of the La Habra Eastern Star chapter and their guests held a potluck supper Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Klusman in La Habra Heights. Tables were decorated with bowls of sweet peas and guests were seated at two long tables.

Following the supper a meeting of the club was held during which plans were made for a dance to be held in conjunction with the Masons on March 30th. It was announced that the matrons of Orange county chapters would entertain the patrons and trailers at a dinner to be given at the Masonic Temple here on Saturday evening, March 18th. The next meeting of the club is to be held at the home of Ruth Jane Davis on West Era Avenue, April 11th.

Games were played after the business meeting until a late hour. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Lewis and Mrs. L. A. Welch of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. Harlen Hodges and daughter, Elaine and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Whittemore of Whittier; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gulick and daughter, Gretta Mae, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cookery, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Launer, Mrs. Dan Hungerford, Mrs. Bertha Hilbert, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Leutwiler, George M. Eaby, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Klusman and daughter Maxine.

SHOE STORE, OPENED HERE IN 1898, CELEBRATES EXPANSION

One of the oldest business houses in the city, the Eureka Shoe store, today announced the formal opening of the establishment in its new quarters at 314 East Fourth street, directly across the street from the previous location.

History of the Eureka Shoe store, today announced the formal opening of the establishment in its new quarters at 314 East Fourth street, directly across the street from the previous location.

In 1920 Nathan Fainberg, present owner of the store took over the operation of the business and has been conducting it ever since. In the 19 years that Fainberg has been conducting the business at its former location at 315 East Fourth street, the concern has motif of beige, sand tan and cream in its furnishings.

Blue-green carpeting in the store proper and marble-green linoleum in the foyer will blend harmoniously with the neutral colors of the fixtures.

Fainberg, prior to 1920 was connected with the shoe business in Owosso, Mich., and Greeley, Colo. He is assisted in the operation of the business by his son, John Fainberg, who graduated from Santa Ana junior college in 1937. Louis Armendariz is the third member of the regular staff of employees.

"It has always been my contention that the independent merchant can successfully compete with all types of business if he is willing to cooperate on a small margin of profit and a large turnover. This has been the policy of the Eureka Shoe Store for the past 20 years and will continue to dominate our approach to the public," Fainberg said today.

Carries Large Stock

"It necessarily follows that the store that operates more efficiently and with less overhead expense is able to pass on to the customer the saving in the merchandise being offered for sale. This we have done in the past and will continue to do in the future."

"We have carried and will carry the largest stock of working-type shoes in the county and will be able to fit every type of foot, whether it be extremely narrow or wide," Fainberg said.

The new shop will have two 18-foot windows that will display the typical merchandise of the store and plans are being completed for having a shoe repair shop in connection with the Eureka Shoe Store. In the previous location a repair shop had been conducted along with the regular store by Frank Rodriguez, who will continue in the new shop.

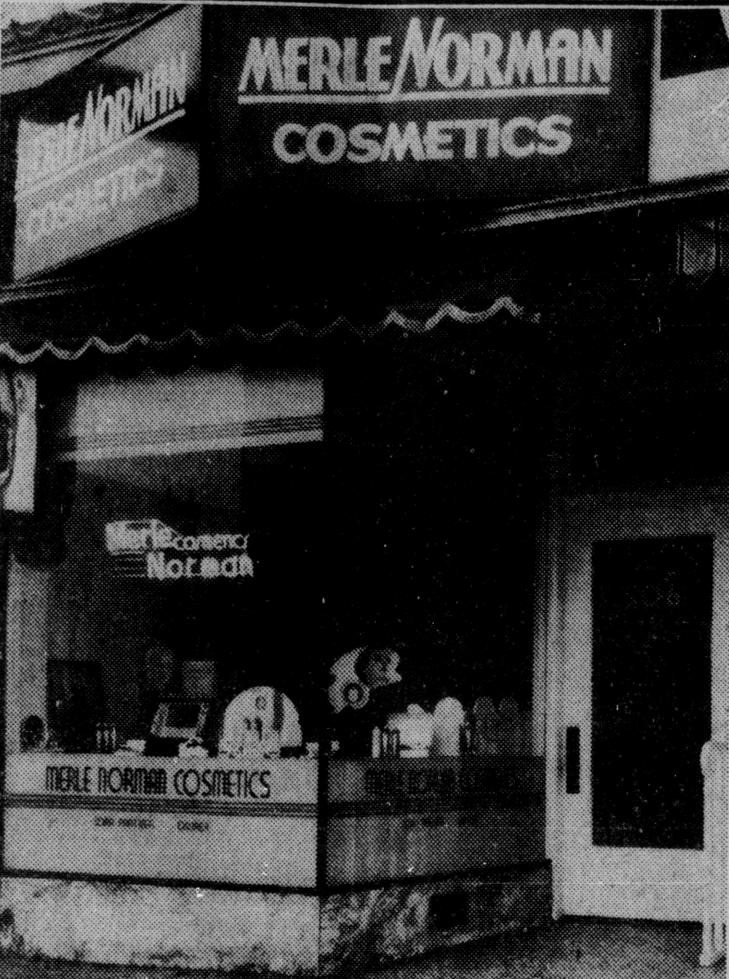

As an added attraction, Fainberg will have souvenirs and toys for all children who attend his grand opening tomorrow if they are accompanied by their parents.

'Eureka Shoes' In New Home

An exterior view of the new home of Eureka shoes, located at 314 East Fourth street, is shown above. It is situated directly across the street from the previous location, and the change, the manager pointed out, marks an extensive expansion program for one of the oldest business establishments in Santa Ana.

New S. A. Cosmetic Shop Opens

The picture above of the new Merle Norman Cosmetic shop, now located at 506 North Main street, will carry the name of Santa Ana to nearly every state in the union as well as foreign countries. This was revealed today by Mrs. Cora Prather, owner and manager of the shop, who stated that the picture would be reprinted in the Merle Norman News. Mrs. Prather today announced the formal opening of the new shop from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. tomorrow. Gift packages of Merle Norman products will be presented by the concern at the opening. The shop was formerly located at 618 North Main street.

TAX EXTENSION PLAN OPPOSED

Responding to nearly 100 requests from clergymen and other church officials in Orange county, Representative Harry R. Sheppard declared today that he would oppose any attempt to make the Social Security tax applicable to churches, it was declared in a message today from Washington, D. C.

Tells Opposition

He said that the proposed measure to bring churches under the act was not an "equitable piece of legislation."

"When it is presented before the House I will do my utmost to see that it is not made an amendment to the Social Security act," Sheppard said. "I feel that the system now followed by the churches is a very fine one and should not be eliminated."

Rep. Alfred J. Elliott asserted that "religious charitable and educational workers who are now provided with a retirement program of their own choosing, should be excluded from provisions of the act."

Entering Wedge

Meanwhile Rep. Stephen Bolles (Wisconsin), said the measure is "one of the new entering wedges which this administration has gathered for several years to find every mite box in the United States . . . in order to help out the overwhelming expenses of the government in its mad determination to spend more and more money."

Don't Forget April 10 Election! Clip Your Precinct Location Now

For the benefit of those planning to vote at the municipal and Santa Ana school board election April 10 in one of the 36 consolidated precincts, The Register presents the exact location of the polling place of each voter today.

Santa Ana's 71 county-and-state election precincts have been consolidated into 34 precincts while two other consolidated precincts are located outside of the city where Paularino, Diamond and Greenville school area voters will cast ballots for school board candidates only.

How They're Listed

Given in the following list is the precinct number of the individual voter in the last county and state election, then the address at which that voter will cast his ballot in the municipal election, and last, the number of the consolidated precinct chosen for the April voting:

Precincts 1 and 2, fire hall, 1322 North Sycamore (Consolidated 1).

C. V. Robinson

ROBINSON SEEKING CITY COUNCIL POST

With a platform based upon progress, for civic improvements and an efficient administration of municipal affairs, Cecil V. Robinson today made formal announcement of his candidacy for city councilman from the second ward.

Robinson, born in Olive, has lived in Santa Ana for the past 40 years, is a property owner and taxpayer and makes his home at 603 East Sixth street with his father, Jephtha Robinson. In his platform, Robinson outlined a six-point program which he says he will follow, if elected, for the encouragement of civic pride, ethics and good government.

Gives Program

His program includes: Support for a substantial government pension for senior citizens and other persons wholly incapacitated physically; full cooperation with the federal and state governments on all worth while work projects for unemployed Santa Anans; main-

NATIVE SONS SEEK BAN ON FOREIGN FISHING INTERESTS

Grand officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West, representing more than 50,000 members throughout California, recently went on record endorsing legislative action seeking to keep American waters free to American citizens.

Assembly Bill 336, now before the state legislature, proposes to amend the fish and game code and make it mandatory "that every person using or operating a fishing boat in California waters procure a commercial fishing license. And that commercial licenses be issued only to a person who is a citizen of the United States, or eligible to become a citizen."

U. S. CITIZENS FAVORED

The amendment, officers of the Native Sons stated, is aimed directly at foreign interests who use California waters for commercial fishing.

The recommendation follows: "It is the consensus of opinion of the board of grand officers of the Native Sons of the Golden West that we favor the principle that fishing for commercial purposes in American waters should be done exclusively by ships flying the American flag and manned by United States citizens."

Major Threat Cited

"Operation of commercial fishing boats on American waters," President Joseph McShane said, "has become a major threat to an industry which is of vital importance to the economic welfare of Californians. To properly keep this industry free for American citizens immediate legislation controlling licensing is essential."

Tenancy of the highest type of public schools and enlargement of the public parks system.

Complete independence of municipal water department funds from those needed for other city activities and lower rates for extra water used on lawns and gardens in summer months; adoption of the "pay as we go" method of financing public improvements, discouragement of all bonded indebtedness except in cases of emergency, and preference towards local business firms and home labor.

1 HELD, ANOTHER HUNTED IN CRIMES

Widow, Friend Divide Estate

While Harold Pruitt, 24, of 122 West Almond, Orange, awaited arraignment in Anaheim justice court this afternoon on a burglary charge, outgrowth of an investigation which assertedly has cleared up 14 Orange county safe-cracking thefts and five similar thefts in San Bernardino county, a second man was sought in northern California in connection with the same burglaries. Five of the safe "jobs" were committed in Santa Ana, according to investigation of Police Chief Floyd H. Howard.

Tells of Crimes

Pruitt assertedly confessed to Detective Lieut. Charles W. Wollford, Santa Ana; Chief Criminal Deputy George Franzen and Deputy Steve Dunhart of the sheriff's staff, and G. W. Coltrane, Orange police chief, yesterday after his arrest. He assertedly admitted being one of the men who burglarized the safe of the Cooperative Poultry association office, Garden Grove, of $580, February 25, and one of those who attempted to burglarize the Ocean Front store, Newport Beach, February 21. The other "jobs" are laid to the second man, assertedly an ex-convict.

A. J. Cruickshanks Now Grandparents

To Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank of Main street, Tustin, may now be accorded the title of grandparents which they wear very proudly since the birth of a baby daughter to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cruickshank of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The little girl, who was born to Mrs. Cruickshank on Saturday, March 11, at Long Island College hospital in Brooklyn, will be christened Constance, for one of her aunts, Miss Constance Cruickshank of this city. Both mother and baby are doing splendidly, and both Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cruickshank have talked over long distance to their parents in this city, acquainting them with the news.

Miles Cruickshank has been connected with a large investment corporation in the east since completing his course at Harvard school of business administration.

FDR Just One Of The Irish Today

WASHINGTON, March 17. — (UP)—President Roosevelt, whose family line is predominantly Netherlands Dutch, outdid the Irish on this St. Patrick's day.

It was the President's 34th wedding anniversary as well as the feast day of the patron saint of Ireland.

Newspapermen who entered the Chief Executive's office for a press conference, found him dressed in a green tweed suit with a sprig of shamrock in the lapel, wearing a green tie and seated behind a bowl of shamrocks and a vase of green carnations.

The President was not able to celebrate the wedding anniversary with Mrs. Roosevelt who was in San Antonio, Tex., on a lecture tour. But he expected to telephone her later today.

MRS. HICKS FILES SUIT

Mrs. Mildred A. Hicks, of Santa Ana, today filed suit through Attorney George E. Bradley asking a divorce from Hugh M. Hicks. She charges desertion. The couple were married in Laguna Beach August 27, 1929, and separated July 15, 1934.

S. A. LIONS CLUB LARGEST IN AREA

The 109 members of the Santa Ana Lions club give the local organization the distinction of being the largest club in District 4-E, comprised of Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties, according to District Governor Ulrich Schmidt, of Ontario.

FARMERS FLAY RATE FUND ACT

On the grounds that "the present Transportation Rate Fund act violates sound principles in government," the California Farm Bureau federation is pressing for the repeal of this legislation, according to J. J. Deuel, director of the law and utilities department of the federation.

In a repeat measure authored by Assemblyman O'Donnell, A. B. 1671, the farm bureau asks that all fees collected by the railroad commission from all transportation agencies, amounting to about $800,000 annually, shall be deposited to the credit of the general fund of the state, from which the Legislature shall appropriate necessary sums needed for the work of the railroad commission in transportation rate matters.

Swells Division Fund

"Our organization," Deuel says, "believes that it is wrong in principle to permit a state agency to enlarge its exclusive support by increasing rates of transportation utilities and agencies."

"At the present time, one-fourth of one per cent of the gross annual revenue and other fees, received by the commission from the transportation utilities and agencies which it regulates, goes to swell the fund used exclusively for the support of the commission's transportation division."

"All increases in rates naturally are borne by shippers, and thus a limited class is called upon to supply the funds which finance the commission whereas that agency of the state should be financed out of general taxation."

STANTON

STANTON, March 17. — Herbert Francis, King Rutledge, Arthur Troutman, and Gerald Walker drove to the Santa Ana airport where Francis took his first airplane ride in a plane piloted by Gerald Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Thompson entertained relatives over the weekend. They are Mr. Thompson's sister, Mrs. T. M. Conolly of Alameda and J. C. Thompson of Hawthorne.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. Rutledge on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luster and baby of Compton.

Rifle Proficiency Trophies Awarded In Santiago Match

Sam Teel, of Garden Grove and J. O. Smith, of Santa Ana, today hold coveted trophies for rifle proficiency on basis of scores they shot at a recent members' match at the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club range, it was reported by Secretary James S. Sweet of the club.

Takes Top Honors

Teel, a sergeant in the Santa Ana National Guard company, and the club's representative at the Camp Perry, Ohio, matches last year, took top honors in the Class A division of the Santiago shoot, and garnered 194 points out of a possible 200 for the course.

Smith, a veteran in the Santiago shooting ranks, chose Class B as his entry and tallied 179 out of a possible 200 points.

Runner-up to Teel was Myron Warner, of Santa Ana, president of the club, who tallied 191 points, and second to Smith in Class B was J. A. Mustard, of Corona del Mar, who tallied 175 out of 200.

Hold Match Sunday
Sweet announced today that there will be another match Sunday, this time with home-loaded lead bullets used on a 200-yard target with eight-inch bull, with telephone company teams competing with Santiago riflemen.

Lowell P.T.A. To Meet Tuesday

Lowell school Parent and Teacher's association meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

The Lathrop junior high school boy's glee club under the direction of their leader, D. Stover, will give three numbers. Miss Natalie Neff's second grade pupils will give a health play entitled "A Visit to the Old Woman in the Shoe." Mrs. W. T. Kirven, the state P.T.A. health chairman, will give a talk on "The Adult's Responsibility for the Child's Health." Refreshments will be served by the second grade room mothers.

Girl Basketball Teams Open Nat'l Tourney

WICHITA, Kan. — (UP) — The country's best girl basketball players, their style of play as different from the old bounce it, shoot it and squeal days as their neat two-piece uniforms differ from the bloomer and middy days, start their combination court and beauty show here Monday. Capacity crowds of 5500 were anticipated.

The 32 teams qualified for the National A. A. U. title will play their first round games Monday and Tuesday, crown their beauty queen Wednesday and settle the championship issue Saturday night. The Galveston Anicos are the defending titlists, and along with the Wichita Thurstons and the Little Rock Flyers are the tourney favorites.

The Modesto, Calif., M. P. A.'s, and the Oakland Oaks, also are reported likely titlists.

Medley relay (four man)—Joe Wolfe, Jim Johnson, Al Ranford, Frank Stafford.

Novice 100-yd. dash—Claude Bassham, Vernon Warden.

Novice 120-yd. high hurdles—Ralph Dawson, Dave Nemback, Gil Brookings.

Pole vault—Billy Joseph, Lawrence Dresser.

High jump—Wendell Tedrow, Ralph Metcalf.

Broad jump—Bassham, Metcalf, Warden.

Discus—Sam Henderson.

Javelin—Bill Morales.

Shot put—Sam Henderson, Vic Lindskog.

Contrary to previous procedure the high schools will compete in a special carnival in the morning, beginning at 10 a.m., with the colleges holding the afternoon spotlight.

Class predominates in the relays where numbers have been the big factor in previous meets. Entries have come from U. of Oregon, Stanford, San Francisco Olympic club, Fresno State, U.S.C., San Mateo J.C., San Jose State, Santa Barbara State, San Diego State, Southern California AA., all Southern conference and Southland Jaysees and the larger high schools.

Principal interest centers in the open 100-yd. dash where Clyde Jeffrey of Stanford will face a field that includes Wilbur Miller of Compton, Barney Willis of U.S.C., Tommy Nelson of Fresno State, and several others who have run 9.6s or better.

Six vaulters are in the meet who have cleared 14 feet or better this year, while Les Steers of San Mateo Jaysee, who barely missed 6ft. 10 1/4in. in the high jump last Saturday, heads a great high jumping field.

'BIG HUTCH' OF COAST LEAGUE TIGER PROBLEM

BY HENRY FERGUSON
(United Press Sports Editor)

LAKELAND, Fla.—You meet a citizen of this town on the main street and instead of saying "It's a nice day" he fixes you with a cold stare and inquires, "Do you think Hutch has got enough speed to stick in the American league?"

He will be talking about Freddie Hutchinson, the schoolboy from Seattle who is in camp with the Detroit Tigers—a $100,000 piece of muscle, nerves and bone, a chubby-faced, 19-year-old kid who is the talk of the Grapefruit circuit. Hutch has been in camp for more than two weeks now and no matter how much or little you talk to people down here the conversation always gets around to the kid who won 25 ball games for Seattle last year.

The man who ought to know the answer to whether Hutch blazes 'em or balloons 'em up to the plate was standing beside the batting cage, yipping at his infielders and watching Hutch throw the ball up in batting practice. So we strolled over and put the issue up to Manager Del Baker of the Tigers.

Hard To Answer

He thought a bit and then said: "That's a hard one to answer. Hutch has only worked once so far. He looked pretty good, but I don't think he was bearing down with everything he has in his arm. But here's the way I feel about it—he may have a fast one and he may not, but I'm not going to worry about it. He can bounce the ball up there for all I care so long as he gets the hitters out. You can't get around Hutch's record on the coast last year. Anybody who can win that many ball games must have something."

There have been plenty of pitchers who have won in the big leagues by throwing a "nothing" ball, but they usually have been veterans such as "Lefty" Grove who have picked up enough currency along the way to make up for the loss of power in their arms. It's unusual for a 10-year-old pitcher to depend on a "nothing" ball. Speed is the first thing scouts look for when out beating the bushes for talent and a kid who lacks it had better forget about baseball and take a correspondence school course in plumbing.

Jerky Delivery

Hutch doesn't look like any of the great pitchers of the past. He has a jerky delivery in contrast to the smooth flowing style of the Johnsons, Deans, Alexanders and Pennocks. He gets his arm up behind his neck in some fashion and just before he releases the ball his wrist makes a corkscrew twist. Suddenly the ball sails out of the tangle of fingers and wrist.

Hutch himself says he can't tell whether he has enough speed to make the major league grade. All he knows about his speed or lack or it is what he has read in the papers, and he has adopted the policy that his performance on the part will do his talking for him.

Needless to say, he's going to get every chance to make good with the Tigers. They are going along with him on the theory that he is ready for the big leagues right now.

"There wouldn't be any point in sending him back to the minors for seasoning," Baker said. "If we had thought he needed more experience we would have left him out in Seattle for another year."

"You're truly,"

"Capt. J. T. Alexander,
U. S. Navy."

Now being manufactured is a car that is insulated against poison gas. The car has successfully passed all tests, and is being produced in quantities in event of war.

"The Yankees?"

"There ought to be a law."

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

Hobson Services Held Thursday

ORANGE, March 17.—Final tribute was paid to Mrs. Abigail E. Hobson, 80, mother of the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, pastor of the First Methodist church, Thursday afternoon, in the Mountain View chapel of Pasadena.

Mrs. Hobson passed away at the home of her son, early Tuesday. A life long friend, the Rev. Archie D. Butters of La Verne officiated. Mrs. Arthur Wollam of Pasadena sang, "When They Ring Them Golden Bells," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Mrs. Florence Donegan presented a program of organ music.

Pall bearers were J. A. Goodin, Altadena; Cabel Moore, William Hull, W. T. Spencer, A. J. Smith, all of Pasadena, Edwin Hull, El Monte. All were long time friends of Mrs. Hobson. She was laid to rest beside her husband, Rev. Tilman Hobson, in Mountain View cemetery.

Mrs. Hobson had made her home in Orange with her son since October. She had lived in Pasadena for almost 50 years. She also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Abbie Loretta Gandy of Nampa, Idaho; a sister, Mrs. Anna Maxon, and four grandchildren.

Fire Chief Talks To Rotary Club

ORANGE, March 17.—Allan Durel, Long Beach fire chief, was speaker at a meeting of the Rotary club yesterday, contrasting old methods of fire fighting with modern ones. Less than 20 years ago, said the speaker, the correct method was thought to be to drown the fire, with the result that 80 per cent of damage was from water.

Present day fire fighting methods provide canvas to cover stock in stores or furniture in homes from water, a spray apparatus has been invented which controls the fire and causes no water damage, the speaker said. New methods, Durel said, also involve ventilation of smoke-filled buildings in order to find the source of the fire. Formerly, he pointed out, it was believed a mistake to open windows in structures where smoke was found.

Women's Relief Corps Meets

Church Group To Name New Officers

New officers will be elected by the high school department of the Presbyterian church in its meeting Sunday at 6:15 p.m. A nominating committee is composed of Mrs. Lou Benson, Julia A. n Brandon, Elmer Smith, Ralph Woods and the president, John Stoner. Installation will be held at the evening service April 2 for a six month's term.

An elaborately decorated birthday cake was served with cookies, candies and tea. Especially attractive was the tea table, lace spread and lighted with white tapers. A large lily leaf was cut in the shape of a huge shamrock and on this was placed a low bowl of white flowers. Bouquets of pussy willows, baby iris and peach blossoms from the garden of the hosts provided a spring-like atmosphere.

The afternoon was spent in reviewing quotations from Shakespeare and King Lear was chosen as the next play to be studied. Present were Mesdames C. O. Thomson, Dian Gardner, H. H. Gardner, Mary Morningstar, Stephen Getchell, Anne Peterson, Miss Margaret Holditch and Miss Elizabeth Lee.

Girl Reserves To Hold Joint Meet

ORANGE, March 17.—The monthly meetings of the four high school clubs of the Girl Reserves will all be held Monday. At 5:30 p.m. the freshmen will meet in the city park for a picnic supper. Miss Bernice Williams and Miss Eldene Watson are leaders of this group.

Sophomores will be the guests of the juniors at the Y.W.C.A. in the Franzen building at a 6:45 p.m. dinner. Mrs. Horace Stevens of Tustin will be the speaker on "Spring Styles". Leaders of this group are Miss Suzanne Clark of the juniors, Miss Helen Campbell of the sophomores.

Seniors will meet at the home of Miss Jean Moore, 360 South Center street, for a party, Miss Jane Bellows leading.

INSTALLATION SLATED

SILVERADO, March 17.—Silverado P.T. A. will hold installation ceremonies at a meeting to be held tonight at the school at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Anna Linnardt, president of the Orange Community P.T. A. council, will conduct the ceremony. Roy Kliff will sing a solo, according to an announcement made by Mrs. C. B. Redmon, president.

Here is a clean, powerful, penetrating oil now dispensed by pharmacists in a new, easy-to-use form that brings speedy relief from the itching and tortures of Eczema, Itching Toes and Feet, Rashes and other externally caused skin troubles.

Not only does Moone's Emerald Oil soothe the itching and torture but it helps promote more rapid and healthy healing. You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store on a guarantee of money back if not completely satisfied. Greaseless—Stainless.

Benedictine Class Meets

ORANGE, March 17.—Formation of a child's welfare committee was a part of the business transacted at a meeting of the Women's Relief Corps Wednesday when the group met at the American Legion hall. Mrs. Julia B. Pratt presided. Serving on the new committee will be Mrs. Elena Craig, chairman, and other members, Mrs. Genelia Richardson and Mrs. Merle Harrison.

Mrs. Edith Richardson, Mrs. Winifred Sutton and Mrs. Mrs. Williams presented an entertaining program while hostesses were Mrs. Freda Porter, Mrs. Mary Schlasman and Mrs. Grace Deck. The sum of $2.50 was donated to the Girl Scouts and a like amount to the Boy Scouts.

A benefit breakfast, one of a series, will be staged at the home of Mrs. Winifred Sutton March 23 at 12:30 p.m. and a benefit card party will be held March 28 with Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Deck and Mrs. Euphemia Rails. Announcement meeting to be held at Fullerton on March 27.

Others present were Mesdames W. H. Dwyer, R. C. Durfee, S. R. Arnold, John Moore, George Fuerstenau, Etta Kirkwood, Florence Dell Cox, Grover Hamil, Don Spurgeon, G. J. Scriven, R. M. Swenson, E. A. Long, W. H. Faerber, and those mentioned on the program.

Students Preside Over Service

WESTMINSTER, March 17.—A delegation of young people from the U. S. C. campus presided over the evening church service of Westminster Presbyterian church Sunday evening, ten minute talks being presented by the visitors. Merrill Follansbee took as his subject that of "Why I Believe in God," and also sang as a solo number the religious number, "Red Robin," accompanied by Marvin Penhall. Janet Mosher, the second speaker, presented her subject as "What Christ Means to Me" and M. Sibbett, the third speaker, told "Why I Go to Church."

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A well advised notion has developed inside that Hitler is getting ready to rewrite the rest of "Mein Kampf" by his future actions.

His joint gobbling with Hungary of the remaining Czechoslovakian morsel opens a direct way to the Ukraine on the map—but not direct as he would have to go. The roads and passes of Ruthenia run south through Rumania, Carl's kingdom, they say, will be the next bite.

And they would not doubt but what it will be the last Hitler bite for a while. Rumania is edible and nutritious, has everything the Ukraine has, and one thing the Ukraine has not—geographical protection. If Hitler ever takes the Ukraine, as Mein Kampf promised, he will have to surround it with a string of steel forts, and defend it eternally against Russia. He could meet his wheat needs in Rumania without the same risk—and probably will.

The President has not only been deeply impressed with senatorial opposition to Bill Douglas for the supreme court. White House leg men at the capitol have assured Mr. Roosevelt the securities exchange chairman will be confirmed.

The Barkley (CIO) amendment was pushed out the capitol windows with a poker so quietly that few heard it fall. The job was done mainly by house conferees on orders from the house leaders. They just could not see themselves taking before the open house provision permitting unscrupulous use of labor's legitimate rights against the national defense program.

The administration squirmed a little in the secret conference of house and senate legislators before dropping the amendment. First Senator J. Ham Lewis offered a compromise providing that hearings be held before a firm could be disbanded from government contracts on complaint of labor. It was voted down. Then another compromise was put forward applying the disbarment only to companies adjudged by the courts to have been unfair to labor for the past two years. This, too, was voted down.

It was then quite clear the administration would either have to take the amendment as planted with Senator Barkley by CIO's John Lewis, or else drop the matter as quietly as possible.

House Republicans on the conference committee enjoyed the Democratic squirming as always. They let it be known they would be delighted to debate the issue openly on the floor of the house, despite the fact that their Republican colleagues in the senate failed to make a substantial record against it.

According to evidence presented, one clever saboteur of a foreign nation might raise such a labor rumpus in a factory as to prevent the government from getting the best weapons for its defense. Any labor leader who wanted to, could stop any firm from participating in national defense merely by submitting a charge and some evidence of unfairness to the NLRB.

The whole Lewis coup failed finally when Barkley's own colleague, Senator Logan of Kentucky, yielded to the evidence and the situation.

The only reason there was not a rebellion over Rep. Cliff Woodrum's demotion as fiscal leader in the house was because Woodrum told his friends privately to let it slide.

The inside story of how he came to be purged is this (pieced together from several sources): Speaker Bankhead and Leader Rayburn called fiscal Chairman Taylor in and told him he would have to rush the relief appropriation through the house and into the hands of the senate by March 24. Taylor transmitted the order to Woodrum who said: "No, thank you, I will not steamroller." Whereupon Taylor, who is 81 years old and was recently ill, said he would have to take over himself.

These things may not mean much outside Washington, but they are often of controlling importance to legislation. They involve personal prestige, a matter which all house members must rush unanimously to defend, if their political careers are to survive. Woodrum prevented a direct aftermath, but the incident will not do Mr. Roosevelt's relief bill any good.

Able, knowing Rep. Fred Crawford of Michigan was debating furiously on the local mill investigation—

"Mr. Speaker," he shouted, "isn't it true that Mayor LaGuardia took the bull by the horns in New York and reduced mills to eight cents a quart?"

A round of laughter ensued from those who doubted that LaGuardia good as he is, could have worked it in quite that indirect manner. Crawford realized what caused the laughter. He then eliminated the reference from the record.

Some of the smallest comets are much larger than our own earth.

Six Boys Of Santa Ana To Attend American Legion School In July

RED CROSS TRAINING SCHOOL TO OPEN HERE NEXT MONDAY

A Red Cross institute or training school for chapter volunteers in many Red Cross services to the public will be held in the First Presbyterian church, Sycamore and Sixth streets, March 20 to 25, it was announced today by Dr. John Wehrly, Santa Ana chapter chairman.

Heads Faculty

A. L. Schafer, who will head the faculty of instructors at the Red Cross institute here March 20 to 25, is Red Cross manager for the Pacific area. He formerly was national manager of disaster relief.

Richardson Named J. C. Newscaster

Acceptance by Carroll Richardson, sophomore student at Santa Ana Junior college, as jaysee newscaster for the daily morning program over a local radio station was announced today. Richardson will broadcast needs of the campus each morning except Sunday at 7 o'clock. Also on the program with Richardson will be Betty Frye, society editor of El Don, jaysee weekly newspaper.

According to Richardson, the policy of previous student broadcasters will be continued with interviews of students in the news. Previous students who have announced the program are Wally Grigg, Edwin Cox, Bill Bratt and Dick Gardner.

Electrical engineers estimate that preventable night accidents on main highways represent an annual loss of about $6000 a mile, keep the remainder alive.

• Open Toes... Open Backs... Open Shanks... Perforations... truly Johansen's secrets of footwear loveliness is an open book... fine craftsmanship is stressed, which is as it should be, and very much in evidence, as you can judge by the necessity of having some support in the vital places... Pumps, Spectators, Sandals, Oxfords, are all featured in the New 'Cut-A-Way' scheme of things. $7.50

30 COUNTY WPA WORKERS 'OUT'

Names of 30 Orange county WPA workers have been removed from payrolls because they failed to fill out citizenship affidavits as required by an amendment passed by congress, it was announced today by Los Angeles offices of the WPA.

Citizenship affidavits were required of all WPA employees in a national campaign to eliminate aliens from WPA lists.

Fails to Respond

A number of those who failed to file the affidavits are American citizens who apparently failed to realize the importance of complying with the rule, it was announced.

Staff Instructors

A. L. Schafer of San Francisco, Red Cross manager in the Pacific area, will head the faculty of instructors. He formerly was national director of disaster relief. Assisting him will be Mrs. Edith McAllister, case work supervisor on the disaster staff; Bowen McCoy, director of war service; Miss Charlotte Linfoot, assistant director of the Junior Red Cross and Miss Ella Wattland, field representative.

Starting next Monday and continuing through Friday workers will receive instruction in administration, family service and community relationships, home service for veterans, Army, Navy, Marine corps and Coast Guard services, home hygiene and care of the sick, visiting nursing activities, home and farm accident prevention, highway first aid, and life saving, volunteer special services, public information and roll call and Junior Red Cross programs.

Easter Bride-Elect
With Shower

Miss Grace Glazier of Brea, whose marriage to Jack William Snell of Placentia will take place Easter Sunday, was incentive for a charmingly arranged shower Wednesday night when Mrs. Garland C. Ross, Mrs. Dean Millen, Mrs. J. T. Crowley and Mrs. Raymond Chapman joined in entertaining.

Guests were welcomed to the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe, where decorations suggested the approach of the young couple's wedding day. Winning prizes in bridge games of the evening were Miss Eleanor Neuls of Brea and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Ollie Snell of Placentia. Scores were recorded on tallies of wedding bell design.

White ranunculus blossoms, sweet peas and lilies formed a bouquet of bridal beauty for a table on which shower packages had been assembled for Miss Glazier. From the guests, she received a varied assortment of linens.

Furthering the wedding bell theme of the evening were ice cream rounds, served with white cakes. White blossoms in fragrant array brightened tables at which guests sought places for this climaxing interval. Twenty-four guests shared the hospital-

Comus Club Dance Given
Gala Setting on Eve
Of St. Patrick's

Coming as it did on the eve of St. Patrick's day, last night's monthly dancing party for Comus club members was a gala affair for which "the wearin' o' the green" found attractive setting in Orange Legion hall.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ragan and Dr. and Mrs. Newell Moore. Mrs. Edgar wore black net over taffeta; Mrs. Merker, black crepe; Mrs. Ragan, green taffeta and Mrs. Moore, black taffeta—each with a spray of greenery in her hair, or a touch of green on her frock.

All the hosts wore shamrocks in their coat lapels. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dickey, who were to have been members of the host group, were unable to be present.

Decorations in the ballroom suggested that St. Patrick's day was close at hand. Bouquets of cala lilies and white stocks, with quantities of greenery, were in the pre-spring Irish mood.

Los Serranos orchestra provided the lilting music for dancing. The antics of these clever musicians added to the enjoyment of the evening. One of the special numbers was a cymbal dance during which tiny green pigs were passed from man to man, and special feminine dancing partners were claimed.

Preceding the dance were various pleasantly informal affairs including the supper at which Dr.

and Mrs. Herbert T. Stroschein received some 16 guests in their home, 922 Freeman street. The Ray Tarrs assisted in receiving guests, who enjoyed the menu served at small tables arranged with white flower clusters.

Comwolei Club Luncheon

Comwolei club members were together for another of their informal meetings Tuesday in First Presbyterian church, where covered dish luncheon was served at noon. Hostesses were Mesdames Howard Youel and L. A. Parsons.

The president, Mrs. Ralph Watson, conducted the meeting. Introduced as a guest was Mrs. John Garthe, sharing the afternoon with the 16 members. Next meeting will be held Tuesday, April 11.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crouse, 2333 Bush street, and Mrs. Crouse's aunt, Mrs. Roma Knight of St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, spent today at Lake Arrowhead.

They are returning home this evening by way of Riverside Mission Inn, where they will have dinner. Mrs. Knight, who has been spending the winter in California, plans to leave next week for San Francisco and the exposition, making a leisurely trip homeward.

Robert A. Miller, 1412 Louise street, has left for a business trip to Chicago and other eastern points.

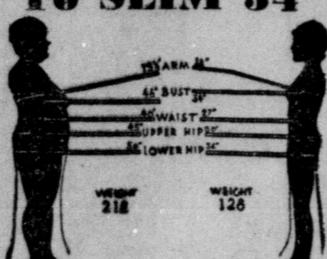

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley, 2800 North Flower street returned late last week from Berkeley, where they went to attend a three-day session of the State Farm Bureau, of which Mr. Smiley is one of the directors. The Smiley's were gone for a week, spending some time in Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sparks of Los Angeles spent the weekend with Mr. Sparks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sparks, 1212 North Ross street.

Club Section Has Party

Second of the trio of parties with which Philanthropy section of Woman's club is seeking to raise funds for its altruistic work, was staged Tuesday afternoon in Veterans hall. Mrs. G. V. Linsenbard, section leader, and her co-workers greeted guests sufficient in number to fill nine tables of games.

These tables were grouped in the lounge, and were used for serving of dessert course in advance of the games program. Sweet peas provided a vivid color note. Prize winning scores were made by Mrs. H. R. Jones in contract; Mrs. Earl M. Waycott, in auction, and Mrs. William Whitehead in anagrams.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Edna Kinsella, who plans to leave June 1 for a summer visit in Ohio, was incentive for a surprise party Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Harry Spencer, 2351 North Park boulevard. Calla lilies and stocks provided a re-freshing setting.

Members of two little bridge clubs with which Mrs. Kinsella is associated took part in the informal affair. They enjoyed dessert early in the evening, preceding card play at four tables. The group showered the honoree with gift packages, some of which she opened that evening. Other boxes were saved for unwrapping during the trip east.

Recognition Ceremony Planned For Sunday

Fifty Girl Reserves are expected to take part in city-wide recognition services to be held Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian church; it was announced today by Miss Marjorie McCollough, Girl Reserve secretary.

Parents and friends of the girls as well as others interested, are invited to attend the affair. Miss Mildred Gibson and Miss Nine Light will give vocal solos. There will be selections by the Girl Reserve Chorus, directed by Miss Clare Spelman and her assistant, Miss Betty Neff. Miss Catherine Bell will provide a piano prelude in connection with the ceremony.

Others who will have special part on the program are Mrs. E. D. Frieschle, Girl Reserve chairman; and the Misses La Von Gold, Patricia Paul, Sally Clark, Eugenia Bond, Mary Markel and Majel Michel.

Neighborhood Affair

Covered-dish dinner and a session of cards were enjoyed by members of a neighborhood group Wednesday night when they met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schroeder, 1208 Louise street. Colorful flowers were used in decorating.

Seventeen members were present for the event. Winning prizes were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dennis, who scored high in contract bridge; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Coombs, high in auction.

Church Members Extend Courtesy to the Harlows

Highlighting a party in which all departments of First Baptist Sunday school participated Wednesday evening in the church, was presentation of a farewell gift to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harlow, who with their family, are leaving late this month to make their home at Lake Arrowhead.

The Harlows have been prominent members of the church for the past several years. Mrs. Harlow having served as superintendent of the senior high school department of the Sunday school and reading chairman of the Woman's society during the past year. Mr. Harlow is retiring from the board of trustees.

Presentation of a pivot lamp to the honored couple on behalf of the church groups, was made by Royce Edson following a skit, presented by F. W. Sanford, Mrs. William Hemmen and Mrs. Alvin Rohrs. Mr. Sanford, who is Sunday school superintendent, was assisted in planning the affair by Mrs. Hemmen.

A varied program was presented in old-fashioned costume, Mrs. Earl Frevert gave three skits, making use of the melodeon in one of the sketches. Rouanne Neighbour, Rose Marie Simcox, Barbara Jones and Joy Crouse, sophomore members of the Senior High department presented a skit. Ruth Lockett and Lenore Merchant gave a special feature; there were harmonica selections by Elyse Crouse; songs by Barbara Jones; and piano solos by Helen Lockett, Barbara Rohrs and Marian Richards. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clyde Cave and the Misses Ruth and Vera Coad of the Faholo class; and Mrs. Rink of the Married and Mrs. Hemmen, Mrs. Rohrs People's class.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Thordike, 1523 North Broadway, had as guests over the weekend, their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tisnerat and daughter, Joanne of Corona and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hull and sons, Alfred Thordike and Philip Ashworth Hull, of Alhambra. Master Philip is just a month old.

Ed Velarde and Ed Buckley, members of Santa Ana Alpha Alpha chapter of Phi Sigma fraternity were in Los Angeles Monday evening for a meeting of the fraternity's supreme council, of which Velarde is a member. Plans were discussed for the national convention to be held July 14, 15 and 16 in Long Beach. Also, arrangements were made for the annual Founders' day banquet to be held March 22 in Los Angeles Royal Palms hotel. Several Santa Anans plan to attend the event.

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Tibbets, 2215 Greenleaf street, had as guests Sunday, Dr. Tibbets' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ayers of Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spangler, 623 North Ross street have returned from a weekend visit in Los Angeles, where they were guests in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Spangler. The Santa Anans were present on Saturday afternoon for a party marking the second birthday of Master George M. Spangler, son of the John G. Spanglers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rhodes of West Haven, Conn., are guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Ada Belle Cope, 318 West Chestnut street. The Rhodes visited here two years ago. Many interesting trips have been enjoyed by Mrs. Cope and her guests, including one into Mexico.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Harris, 801 French street, are entertaining as house-guest, Mrs. W. W. Syp of their former home city of Centerville, Iowa, who has been spending the winter months in the Hawaiian Islands.

De Molay Mothers Have Enjoyable Meeting

When Mrs. Louis McCowan and Mrs. G. A. Warren entertained De Molay Mothers Circle Tuesday evening in the McCowan home, 2223 Bush street, they observed an attractive green and white scheme in all decorations.

Five small tables appointed in St. Patrick's motif were set up early in the evening for the serving of ice cream and cakes of appropriate design. Mrs. Glenn Cave, president, conducted a business session during which plans were made to hold the next meeting Tuesday, April 11 in the home of Mrs. Guy Christian, East Santa Clara street. Mrs. Edward F. Gaebe will be co-hostess.

Winners in games of the evening were Mrs. Everett Cornel and Mrs. Christian, who held high scores in contract and auction bridge; Mrs. Gaebe, Chinese checkers.

Phi Omegas Take Part In Dinner Meeting

Various features contributed to the enjoyment of this week's meeting of Phi Omega sorority, which began in the home of Mrs. Charles White jr., 2123 West Eighth street. Sweet peas and hyacinths formed decorations.

Named as pledges to the chapter were Miss Wyllys Anderson and Miss Evelyn Richards of this city; Miss Sally Bouass of Anaheim and Miss Nancy Harrington of Orange. Business meeting followed the serving of covered-dish dinner.

Members and pledges went to Valencia skating rink for an exciting session, then returned to Mrs. White's home for refreshments of chocolate and cookies.

Layette Shower

Bridge club members who assembled Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emrys White jr. in Garden Grove, took part in a layette shower complimentary to Mrs. Fayette Birtcher of Anaheim.

Dessert was served in advance of other party features. Gifts for Mrs. Birtcher were placed on the dining room table, centered with pink and white sweet peas and a stately white madonna figure.

Scoring high in bridge were the honoree, Mrs. White and Mrs. Kenneth Price.

NEXT stamp to be issued on the 1939 U. S. program is the modernistic 3-cent New York World's Fair commemorative, the design of which is shown above. It will be placed on first-day sale at New York, April 1. Color and size will be announced soon.

The Leatherstocking Stamp Club of Cooperstown, N. Y., will issue the official cachets June 12 commemorating 100 years of baseball. Undoubtedly, the U. S. commemorative to be released that day will be sold exclusively at Cooperstown first since the great American game was started there by Abner Doubleday in 1839. Returns from the cachets, which will show the national baseball emblem, will be devoted to Doubleday Field in Cooperstown.

The long talked of trans-Atlantic air service between Great Britain and the United States may become an actuality within a matter of weeks.

This possibility was raised yesterday when the British government waived a 1935 agreement that no American company should start such service until a British company also was ready.

Previously, it had appeared probable that this agreement might delay the service until June at the earliest because Imperial Airways, the British company planning trans-Atlantic service, will not be ready before then, although Pan-American Airways is expected to be in a position to start service late in March.

There was no immediate announcement yesterday, however, as to whether Pan-American actually would take advantage of Britain's action and launch service next month, or soon thereafter.

Tripp at State Department Juan Tripp, Pan-American's president, was conferring with State Department officials at the time Britain's note was made known, but he would not comment after the conference.

The British note, answering an American inquiry, came two weeks after the State Department negotiated a six-months agreement with France for an air service to that country.

U. S. Official Takes Post

The United States is not obligated to follow the same route as the British. Officials said it was likely to make just one stop, perhaps at Botwood, Newfoundland, between the United States terminal and Southampton.

Officials hope an all-year service can be maintained, operating during the summer on the northern route and during the winter on the southern route.

Autogyro Air-mail — The Post Office Department received one bid from Eastern Airlines, Inc., for the world's first regular autogyro service—a line from Camden, N. J., airport to the roof of the Philadelphia post office. The bid was $3.86 a mile.

Postmaster General Farley has rejected an appeal for a stamp to publicize Charley McCarthy.

Included in the design of the $1 Newfoundland airmail stamp of 1931 are four swastikas.

As a postal contribution to the celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the first airplane flight by the Wright brothers, at Kill Devil Hills, N. C., on 17, 1903, the town's postmaster applied a special cachet to philatelic covers. The cachet features a machine of the type used by Wilbur and Orville Wright and includes "Birthplace Aviation" and the town's name.

French authorities claim that years before the Wrights made their famous flight Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903, a French engineer made a flight of about 60 meters on the plateau of Satory on October 14, 1897. France has him as the "father of aviation" and a 50 franc blue stamp has been issued in his memory. The stamp shows a portrait of the engineer with a background of a peculiar looking fort. It is said that several other-than-air machines were built before the flight at Satory.

Excess postage represented in day covers of the president-series brought the Post Office Department at least $315,000. Collectors desiring copies of the sheet, "A Brief History of United States Postal Service," may address: Harold F. Rose, Information Bureau, Post Office Department.

Before the philatelic exhibition it leaves Washington on its tour, a ceremony probably will be held at the White House, where the Nation's No. 1 stamp collector will give it his blessing.

Readers interested in naval

Critics want the label "one and one-half cents" on the March Washington stamp corrected to read "one and one-half cent."

President Roosevelt has approved a Treasury Department ruling which for the first time legally permits black-and-white illustrations of stamped envelopes and postal cards for philatelic purposes.

Section 3 of the Treasury regulations adopted last February granted the privilege of illustrating "canceled and uncanceled United States postage stamps" under certain conditions, but failed to mention stamped envelopes and postal cards, leaving publishers in a quandary as to whether it would be legal to illustrate these also. Some publishers placed their own interpretation on the regulation, in the absence of any specific prohibition, and went ahead picturing envelopes and cards; others refrained from doing so and pressed the Treasury for an amendment granting the permission. It is such an amendment which has now been adopted with the approval of the President.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANN MEREDITH

A reader asks for instruction in the use of a timbale iron. Usually a fine standard recipe comes with each set, but if one has had no experience in timbale making, a hint or two will not come amiss.

To make twenty timbale cases, use these ingredients:

1 egg
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sweet milk
5/8 cup bread flour (10 table-spoons, level measure).

Beat egg, salt and sugar quite briskly, put in milk and flour, stir with a spoon to make smooth, then put through a sieve into a deep bowl and set aside for an hour to let all bubbles escape.... it's the bubbles that wreck the cases.

Have sufficient fat in a deep kettle to cover the timbale iron. Heat to the stage where a crust browns in slightly less than one minute. If you use a thermometer, 370 degrees is the heat required.

Let the clean timbale iron heat in the fat from the start, lift out of fat, let drip very briefly, for the iron must not cool, plunge the iron into batter so that the rim shows above the batter. Hold iron in batter ten seconds, lift out and into the boiling fat, submerging iron yet not allowing it to rest on bottom of kettle. Cook the cases until delicately browned, lift up iron, drip for a moment, loosen case carefully and let drain on crumpled paper napkin. Keep the iron wiped free from bits of crisp-ed batted... use a paper napkin for wiping, not a wet cloth. The timbale cases may be stored in an air tight box and re-heated as into the boiling milk, now removed from fire. Whip the 2 stiff egg whites through liquid next and flavor. Pour custard mixture into a shallow baking dish, set in a pan of hot water. Bake slowly until firm (30 minutes). At the 25-minute mark, spread jelly over the baking custard and over this put the 4-egg meringue, piled on in carefree spoonfuls. Return to oven and brown during the remaining five minutes of baking. Chill well and serve with thin cream.

Are you a proud woman? If so, don't let over-weight get the best of you so that you waddle like a comfortably padded duck. Write today for our new diet sheet with its choice of three fine diets. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Jelly Souffle

1 quart milk, boiled
3 level tablespoons cornstarch dissolved in 1/4 cup cold milk

6 beaten egg yolks
2 egg whites, beaten stiff with

1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon or orange peel

Large glass of grapes or current jelly or strawberry jam

4 extra egg whites beaten stiff,

1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar and juice of 1/2 lemon.

—an old tested recipe

Add dissolved cornstarch to the 6 egg yolks, beat well and strain

serts. Spread pancakes with apricot marmalade, roll up and keep hot.

Orange Sauce

The juice of 2 oranges, grated rind of one and juice of 1/2 lemon, scalped with 1 cup water, 1 cup sugar and 3 tablespoons butter. Stir in 3 teaspoons cornstarch and cook over hot water 30 minutes. Add a dash of brandy or sherry to sauce before pouring over the rolled pancakes.

DIXIE DUGAN

By STRIEBEL and McEOY

Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne at their best. Most promising find of the week: Rex O'Malley, the dead-pan comic of "Midnight"—play him across the board, for he's a sure-fire winner.

They're telling about the tart repartee between a producer and one of his glamorous girls with whom he was staging a furious quarrel. "You don't need to bite my head off," he shouted. "Don't worry," she snapped. "I never eat fat!" Copyright, 1939, McNaught Syn., Inc.

SORORITY ERRS ON PLEDGE probably never would have appeared if the recipient of the Chi Omega invitation to a tea hadn't been "Osiris," columnist for the college paper. "Osiris," a junior, accepted and attended the tea.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—It wasn't that Michigan State college sororities stooped to pledging men, it was that they just made a mistake. The story

jimmie fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 17.—Whether or not she's displaying good business judgment is open to argument, but I'm ready to doff my bonnet to Loretta Young for having the backbone to stick to the plan of campaign she announced a few weeks ago when she declined to contract renewal with Twentieth Century-Fox and went freelance. At that time, she stated she would not work in any picture, irrespective of the amount of money offered her unless (1) she were given the right to okay the story treatment and (2) the supporting cast that she wanted. I had heard so many actresses make similar grandiose declarations that I took time out to snicker up my sleeve.

It seems that I was too hasty. A few days ago Loretta calmly walked out on a job at Columbia—a job that would have paid her a neat $100,000 for starring in one picture! Cary Grant, whom she wanted to play opposite her, declined the part because he didn't like the story treatment. The studio refused to make the changes he demanded, and Loretta said nothing doing without Mr. Grant. I happen to know that at the time she floated that $100,000, she didn't have another assignment in view.

Not only does it take a Spartan spirit to reject that much money, but it takes "intestinal fortitude" for a player, just now, to risk a studio quarrel. The producers are a least determined on retaliatory measures. At least a dozen stars who have refused after contracting to play them have been suspended. A freelance, of course, needn't worry about that, but even a freelance can suffer once the producers get vindictive.

CUFF NOTES: George O'Brien's next picture will be half-times. He wants to squeeze in a trip to Mexico City before the Mrs.

Does the coffee you serve represent you?

Perhaps you haven't thought about coffee in this way. But today people look upon a cup of coffee as the "Exposition" of the meal. And how your coffee tastes can cause more conversation than you may realize. Millions of women serve Hills Bros. Coffee because they know it will bring these words of praise—"Now that's what I call good coffee!" For sixty-one years this compliment for Hills Bros. Coffee has been heard again and again.

Some unsung makeup wizard a Twentieth Century-Fox has developed a new, flesh-like rubber composition which can be moulded the "Young Mr. Lincoln" set, changing his features to order. I saw it in use today when I visited the "Young Mr. Lincoln" set, where Henry Fonda is playing the title role. The effect is amazing. Hank's own snub nose has been built up to the real Lincoln-esque proportions; his cheek bones have been heightened and his chin has been made just a bit more aggressive. The net result is a living portrait of Lincoln, as faithful in every detail as a mirrored reflection. This new technique is going to play a great part in tomorrow's pictures. It means that any historic face can be resurrected for the screen.

Change In Prison Staff Opposed

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—An inquiry into assertedly abnormal "employment turnover" at the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi was promised today by M. G. Brittan, chairman of the prison's board of directors.

Brittan said the inquiry would be made in answer to a letter from the California League of Women Voters who charged that the rapid changes in the prison staff were proving harmful to the institution.

Mrs. Warner Clark of Los Angeles, state president of the league, said in the letter to Brittan that the reported changes in personnel were "detrimental to good administration and to the best interests of the institution

"From Prison To Quarantine"

QUINCY, Cal., March 17.—(UP)—Aubrey Clark, 14, escaped from the fire into the questionable safety of the frying pan.

Aubrey was jailed with a companion on charges of stealing an automobile. The companion was released to the custody of his parents.

Aubrey had no parents, so was released to the custody of Mrs. W. C. King, pending his hearing on automobile theft charges. Mrs. King, however, was stricken with scarlet fever, and Aubrey was under quarantine.

He won't have to go to juvenile court until April 3.

PLAYING CLOSE TO BELTS

As the Annalist puts it, "The business recession continues, though at a leisurely pace." Business is now operating at about the level of the end of 1935. Time's index stood at about 96 during a recent week—as against 103 at the end of 1938, 105 at the end of 1937, and 118 at the end of 1936.

Yet the best commentators are not discouraged. They point out that the bad spots in the picture—the national debt, declining world trade, reduced agricultural income, high unemployment—are nothing new. As Ralph Robey of Newsweek observes, "They were with us throughout the extraordinary rise of business in the second half of last year." And there are good spots to be seen—reduced inventories in most lines, steady commodity prices, prospects for new security issues. As a result, the authorities cling almost 100 per cent to their past prediction that April will mark the start of a strong upward movement that will bring the indexes to their highest point since depression, by the end of the year—or, failing that, to a point very near it.

Slackness in security sales is perhaps one of the worst of immediate factors. There has been no sharp, severe drop in values—it's just that both buying and selling are at extremely low ebb. Investors are playing close to their belts.

OIL AND POLITICS

You can't mix oil and water. A mixture of gasoline and alcohol often ends up as an item in the obituary columns. Now our legislators at Sacramento are contemplating a mixture of oil and politics with a vicious oil control bill which threatens to upset the entire structure of one of the state's most vital industries. We in Orange county should be vitally interested in this measure.

Introduced by Assemblyman Maurice E. Atkinson, the measure would hand over the entire administration of this important industry employing thousands of men and women to a commission of three men. The governor is named head of the commission. Serving with him would be his director of finance and his director of natural resources. These three, all partisan officials and all having other definite duties to perform, would be given power to supervise the production and marketing of every single drop of oil in the state.

They would say who shall drill for oil. They would say how much should be produced. They would determine prices.

To attempt to run a business that must depend upon partisan approval can only mean one thing and that is higher prices to the consuming public. California has enjoyed fair prices for its petroleum products and fair wages for its people in the industry only because there has been reasonable competition. Take away that factor; hand complete control to a commission; make possible a monopoly and prices will start upwards. You can't mix oil and politics. It just won't work.

COMBINED VIEW OF SPENDING PROGRAM

Everybody is talking about government spending. In Congress on public platforms, in the newspapers and magazines, in club and restaurant, on the corner WPA job, people talk about it.

Is it going too far? Will it ruin the government and all of us? Is it creating habitually-dependent class? Is it a bitter necessity, or a desirable piece of pump-priming and investment? Is it merely holding the fort until private enterprise can take its place, or is it scaring private enterprise from ever replacing it?

Everybody has opinions on these questions. But Fortune Magazine sought a new point of view on the subject. It brought together 11 men, all leading business or labor men, economists and the like. It conducted a discussion of the spending question.

Then, instead of presenting the opposing views which were expressed, setting them off against each other, it sought to bring together all the points on which there was not too serious a disagreement. The idea was to find the common ground that could be reached by people who disagree. Even such people do not disagree in everything.

What is the maximum general agreement that can be found even among people who differ? Raymond Leslie Buell, who engineered this forum, believes that such common ground, when found, will be pretty solid.

In regard to government spending and its effects, with slight exceptions which were noted, 11 widely-diverse men agreed as follows:

The government should invest money so that it will create productive opportunity, rather than merely pour it out to create purchasing power. The present fiscal policy has brought with it a large failure in business confidence; enterprise languishes because business has become convinced that the government doesn't care about it.

That is an interesting synthesis of viewpoints individually as far apart as those of a conservative business man and an economist devoted to New Deal objectives. It deserves the study of every person interested in the national welfare.

For the whole of democratic procedure depends on action based on that maximum of agreement that can be reached between men and points of view that differ widely in detail.

Perhaps when it is all stripped down, the economic views of men, like their physical and social makeups, have more points in common than they have in distinctiveness. To find that common ground and act on it is the key to orderly progress.

The Nation's Press

(New York Daily News)

The Federal Communications commission has renewed its drive for power to censor the radio, in contravention of the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech. That is what its adoption of a recent report gotten up by two of its members amounts to, though Chairman Frank McNinch says the FCC has no desire to censor radio programs.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life / By R. C. Hoiles

VARIOUS KINDS OF DEMOCRACIES

A contributor, signing the pen name of "Myrtle Manana," asks what is a real democracy. A real democracy is one that only does things that all self-reliant people consent it should do. It does not do anything that self-reliant people do not want it to do. It is a very limited government in interference with creative enterprise and a very active government in protecting equal right for all.

These things that all want done are, to protect life, the fruits of labor, the individual in his liberty and promote peace. If democracy will attempt to do these things, and these things only, and vote only on the methods of doing these things, then it would seem we would approach a practical and true democracy.

Of course, we never have had a real democracy. Democracy is a relative term. Probably the best way of selecting those who are to write a constitution, would be to include everyone who demands much of himself. If this group is a minority, it probably will be selected the same way Cromwell was selected, or the framers of the Constitution were selected. They were selected, in a rough way, by those people who demanded more of themselves than others.

The contributor inquires whether a self-selected minority would look after the rights of the majority it superseded. If it were a minority that demanded more of itself than of others, like the framers of the Constitution and Cromwell, it would attempt to give neither the majority nor any minority too much power. It would attempt to limit the power of both the majority and minority and protect both the majority and the minority.

That is what the framers of our Constitution attempted to do and that is what Cromwell attempted to do, to some extent, in his first Bill of Rights.

The contributor is concerned about errors being made. Of course, there will be errors made. Democracy is evolution. But, he certainly will admit there are different qualities in the individual—those who have respect for other people's rights and those who have no respect for other people's rights and we should not have those people establishing social rules who do not have respect for rights of others. If the minority group, demanding much of itself, whether it be one or many, limits its own power, as well as the power of the majority, there could be no great damage done.

The contributor inquires whether certain business houses are not democratic. Certainly, all business under an approach to democratic government, is democratic to the extreme. Everytime any man buys a product, he is voting with his purchase that this individual should produce what he is buying. He votes as often as he buys. Everytime anybody agrees to work for an individual, he is voting by so doing, that this employer is to market his services.

There is no coercion about business. It is voluntary. But, democracy that determines important things by majority rule, or dictation that arbitrarily makes unequal laws, is coercion. It is entirely different from private business.

No, we have never advocated a totalitarian state, unless you would call a totalitarian state one that insisted on no one having too much power. If this is construed as totalitarian, then we want to be regarded as totalitarian. But a limited government—a government that limits the power of the majority or the minority—could not be logically construed as a totalitarian state. And because an individual objects to the tyranny or the shortsightedness of the majority, is no logical reason to conclude that he is totalitarian or opposed to democratic ideas.

GOVERNMENT TAKES FROM THE MOUTH OF LABOR

Former Congressman Samuel Pettengill, says, "Never in the history of this republic has there been greater need of public understanding of what Thomas Jefferson meant when he spoke of a wise and frugal government . . . which shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned. Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet continuing deficits. Stop the deficits."

And, yet, our New Dealers contend that we need not even think about balancing the budget and reducing government expenditures. It would seem that our public colleges and schools would bow their heads in shame that public opinion has come to so disregard all the precepts of history. But our educators are not interested in education. They are interested in holding their jobs.

They have never yet explained how the poor worker does not pay and pay most dearly for the schooling the teachers keep telling him is free."

which it said might form the basis of punitive FCC action against broadcasting stations. This punitive action can consist in revoking a station's license, the FCC having power to revoke or renew licenses every six months.

The fourteen types of dangerous programs, as listed by Variety, are:

(1) Fortune telling in any form. (2) Astrology or other fake sciences. (3) Solicitation of funds. (4) False, fraudulent, or misleading advertising. (5) Defamatory statements. (6) Failure to allow equal opportunity to discuss all sides of controversial issues. (7) Programs bordering upon the obscene. (8) Programs offending religious or racial groups. (9) Taking sides (as broadcasters) on political, religious, or racial matters. (10) Cliff-hanger kid shows (horror programs). (11) Booze glorification. (12) Interrupting concerts or music to insert advertising announcements. (13) Too much advertising in general. (14) Too many phonograph records."

The FCC is to decide when any program comes under any of these heads. There are seven members of the FCC, which we call Censor McNinch and his six dwarfs. Well, make it five dwarfs. One of the commissioners—T. A. M. Craven—has the courage to protest this grab for FCC censorship power, to the grave annoyance of Mr. McNinch.

The FCC is one thing which can not be blamed on the New Deal. It was set up in Hoover's time; and to a certain limited extent it is necessary. It is needed to allocate wave lengths and kilowatts the different stations to keep too many stations from cluttering up one wave length or jamming one another off the air.

But that is all it is needed for. And its current attempts to establish itself as a board of censorship of everything that goes on the air should be stopped on, and stepped on hard, by both parties in congress.

We think, for one thing, that the six month license period too short. This keeps the broadcasters on tenterhooks, unable to build for the future. The period should be at least three years; or better, stations should be granted permanent franchises revocable only after appropriate government lawsuits regularly fought through the courts.

Who's Got The Ball?

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The Dies un-Americanism committee has just obtained the most sensational information on Nazi and Communist activities in the United States so far unearthed. Among the secret evidence is proof that:

Bund officials received several million dollars from Germany to finance Nazi organizations and camps in this country. The committee has the facts to show that in one instance $75,000 was transmitted through a Berlin bank to establish a Bund camp near Jersey City, N.J.

That a large part of the under-cover propaganda money from Germany was handled by Nazi officials in this country. Some of the evidence directly implicates the German embassy in Washington.

That the Nazi hierarchy in Berlin has a secret fund earmarked specifically for the military training of pro-Hitler Americans and for financing propaganda by public officials who are Nazi-minded.

That the Communists have been sending picked American Negroes to Russia, where they are elaborately entertained and then sent back to this country to picture the Soviet to their race as an economic fairyland.

The committee has the names of the Negroes and the dates of their secret excursions to Russia. According to this evidence, they were shipped to France, then to Russia without visas so as to make it appear that they remained in France all the time they were abroad.

Hotel Strike

The big Capital hotel strike not only caused the White House correspondents to cancel their annual banquet to the President, but also gave headaches to a lot of labor-sensitive officials.

Ninety-five senators and congressmen plus scores of other notables were living in the 13 hotels when the strike broke. Some, such as Senator Carter Glass, Senator J. "Ham" Lewis, Representative Ralph Brewster of Maine and Representative Dondero of Michigan had no qualms about walking through the picket lines. But others dashed madly about town looking for other living quarters.

Senator Bob Wakner, author of the labor relations act, checked out of his hotel, though he has lived there for years. So did Representatives Frank Havener, who is planning to run for mayor of San Francisco this year with labor backing, and Vito Marcantonio, scrappy standard bearer of New York's American Labor party.

Another celebrity who refused to cross the picket line was Katharine Hepburn, famed movie star who was playing in the stage play "The Philadelphia Story". She left her hotel and went to a private home.

Who's Got The Ball?

The Washington local of the CIO United Shoe Workers volunteered to repair free the shoes of pickets, while the CIO Union Council offered funds and pickets.

Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman, national CIO vice presidents, immediately left their hotels when they learned about the strike. Murray lugging his suitcase down four flights of stairs rather than call for a non-union bellboy and elevator operator.

Hillman first discovered the strike at breakfast, when he noticed that the head waiter was serving him.

"To do what do I owe this honor?" he asked.

Told what had happened, Hillman rose, paid his bill and left, saying, "There'll be no breakfast with the White House."

Ambassador Bowers

Ambassador Claude Bowers will go back to Spain, but only to pack his shirts and collars. If the state department had followed his advice, he would probably still be in Spain, and Spain still would be a bulwark against Nazi-Fascism in Europe.

Day by day during the course of the war, Bowers wrote dispatches to Washington from his retreat in Saint-Jean-de-Luz. He could have delegated this task to a secretary, but as a former newspaper editor, he preferred to do the writing himself. These dispatches over the 30-month period now make three fat volumes.

Their daily refrain was "Lift the embargo", "Lift the embargo". Bowers was convinced that the so-called neutrality of the United States, France and Great Britain was playing into the hands of Hitler and Mussolini.

Hoosier Diplomat

Bowers maintained a vigorous pro-Loyalist attitude in spite of the poisonous atmosphere around him. Other diplomats at Saint-Jean-de-Luz gathered daily at cocktails to repeat the latest gossip about Communism in Madrid and alleged atrocities against the church.

Because Bowers held his tongue and contributed no scandal, he was branded a dangerous leftist.

A native Hoosier, six years in the diplomatic service has put no white spots on this "Man from Home". He now strolls more impressively than a sight-seer gaping at the White House. With drooping shoulders and a drooping cigarette—which he chews as if it were a cigar—Bowers recently faced newsmen in the state department.

Their daily refrain was "Lift the embargo", "Lift the embargo". Bowers was convinced that the so-called neutrality of the United States, France and Great Britain was playing into the hands of Hitler and Mussolini.

So they informed the Pennsylvania senator. At first Davis insisted his dates were correct. He told newsmen that he had offered the resolution at the request of "somebody from the Franklin Institute (in Philadelphia) who called me up on the phone."

When Davis introduced his measure, Capitol reporters quickly discovered that the first congress met in New York on March 4, 1789, and did not sit in Philadelphia until its third session, which began December 6, 1790.

You are not Robert Montgomery yourself, and that old lady of yours is going to give you plenty of headaches shooting off her face before your term is out. The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

Yesterday: At a party at Alan's, Eric reveals his worry about his dam. Later, to himself, he confesses his worry about Emily, another man's wife. He is in love with Emily!

CHAPTER IX

WORK brought little peace to Eric Kane. Even at the dam, where a hundred men toiled like galley slaves to carry out his orders, he could not forget Emily.

"Looks like we'll make it, Chief." Baker was at his elbow. They stood beside the engineers' office, high above the diversion dam, looking down on the gravel trucks, edging out along the high trestle, dumping their load of stone, then rumbling back to the gravel dump, piled high along the railroad track. Unmindful of danger, men worked at the edge of the trestle, guiding the gravel into chutes, to spill it over the dam.

"Pay those men out there double," Eric ordered curtly. "And keep them there. Any reports on the weather?"

"Temperature rising steadily," Baker answered. "But we can stand that, if we don't get rain."

"If the rain holds off for another week—and it may—all that snow will be melted and past the dam. If it rains, and rains hard, it's going to be just too bad."

"Eric—telephone?" an assistant shouted from the office door.

Emily's voice came to him over the wire, giving him a pleasant thrill. "You're coming down for the Country Club dinner-dance tonight Eric. Alan and I won't take 'No' for an answer. You've been up at that old dam all week. I'm having a few in for cocktails, then we'll all go together. Please do, Eric."

"I can't leave the job, Emily."

Eric fought the desire to shout that he would be there, with her, whatever the cost. "I really can't get away tonight." He had no right to the happiness being with her, dancing with her would bring.

"I'm begging, Eric. I've counted on you so." She sounded like a small child.

"All right. I'll try to make it. But don't be disappointed if I don't get there." He could hear Emily laughing, delightedly.

"Fine," she said. "We'll wait for you." She knew he would be there. And Eric knew it too.

CONFFLICTING thoughts raced through Eric's mind as he drove toward town. He tried to think of the dam—remembered to tell Baker about that low creek bank up stream—if water backs up there it will cut off the highway—but the motor of his car sang "Emily, Emily" and her face danced out beyond the headlights.

And Alan. He was so big, so fine. The man who had saved Eric's life. Why did it have to be Alan's wife? Why did Emily have to marry a fellow like that?

But Eric had loved Emily first. Ever since that first night, in St. Louis, he had known that all his life he would love the Fairy Princess. And that knowledge had kept him from marrying anyone else. For years he had secretly hoped to find her again and then, when all trace of her was lost, he had felt that he would have cheated any other girl he might have married.

Cheated a girl? What was he doing to Alan, now? Posing as a friend, loving his wife.

"This is the last time I'll ever see her," Eric told himself. "I'll go tonight, and then I'll never come back. That's the only fair thing to do." And he meant it.

SOFT lights. Music. Holding

Emily in his arms again, listening to her tinkling laugh. She was beautiful. Men surrounded her constantly, begging for dances. Whenever Eric danced with her someone was bound to cut in. And he let them, gladly.

It was dangerous for him to be too near Emily, tonight. He was afraid that he might just say a part of the thoughts that were keeping him in a turmoil. Alan's drinks had been too strong. Why must a man insist on having another drink, when he should have known you were in love with his wife?

He was standing in a doorway, staring at the dancers, searching for Emily. Suddenly he felt a hand on his arm, heard someone saying:

"Dance with me quickly. There's a fellow following me. He's drunk."

It was Emily. Laughing, eyes sparkling. She clung to him as they glided across the floor.

"You see," she said. "I've come back, Sir Knight. Just so you could rescue me from another drunk." Eric loved her for that. This was the way it should end.

In the same gay mood. She would disappear in the crowd again, go out of his life forever. She would go back to Alan.

"There's no drunk this time, either, Eric," Emily was saying. "Just a husband who leaves his wife stranded at a dance. Grandpa Frank fell and broke her hip and Alan had to dash off to the hospital. He said to tell you to take me home. You will, won't you?"

"Probably. But I don't want to." Then I'll get someone else. There are at least five eligible bachelors who'll take me home." Emily was teasing him.

Then, almost roughly, he pushed her away, reached past her to open the door.

heavy responsibilities as well as great delights. They reach for the sweets always and discredit our warnings. The girls are afraid that if they do not go along with the petting and the rest, going as far as the rest of the crowd, that they will be left out.

All we can do is to point out that men still like to choose their wives from among those who have a reputation for discretion and control and general wholesomeness.

The boys are looking for all the fun they can get. They do not understand that they are taking toll of the lives of the girls, a mean advantage they will be ashamed of in days to come.

They do not know that they are courting disease, perhaps to spread it among those they love best. They know only that here is an opportunity for joy, one of the screen of silence.

There are some counts on that side, but not too many to keep the balance. The most of the counts go for full and free communication about this vital phase of adolescent life. Ignorance is no synonym for innocence. Innocence presupposes knowledge and choice and a standard, none of which an young person can have unless he is informed.

Sex information can now be had by anybody who wants it. From the kindergarten to the collegiate the whole body of Youth is being deluged with information. They know. But to them, knowing for the first time in their lives takes on the joy of discovery. They think themselves pioneers in a field as old and as completely explored as the Garden of Eden. In their joy they make mistakes.

Sex is hoary with age. The race has found certain customs and traditions to be better for it than others. Promiscuous sex relationships have been condemned by generation after generation, and by Nature herself, when she let disease in one of its most horrible forms, put the mark of death upon it.

But the children do not know that. They think that our caution and prohibitions are all of a pie with our late silence. They laugh and gaily take a chance and are tragically wounded, and utterly bewildered to find themselves in trouble from which neither they nor anybody else can extricate them.

There is no easy way of teaching the children that sex has in spite of us, and that they must enjoy it while they can.

All the laws of life are old, old as the Garden of Eden, and we must teach honestly, without reserve, and help wherever we can. We must teach this generation that health is the ideal to be met, health of body and mind. We must teach them to put their trust in health, not in disinfectants. The laws of life are immutable and they decree health, wholesome, hearty, health.

The boys are looking for all the fun they can get. They do not understand that they are taking toll of the lives of the girls, a mean advantage they will be ashamed of in days to come.

They do not know that they are courting disease, perhaps to spread it among those they love best. They know only that here is an opportunity for joy, one of the screen of silence.

Each generation discovers life. Everything is new to them. The adults, having had experience and education, having profited by the experiences of the race and their own adventures, have taken certain attitudes toward phases of life that deeply affect the young people. For many generations it has been thought best to say little or nothing about sex, but keep all its attributes, influences and activities behind the screen of silence.

There are some counts on that side, but not too many to keep the balance. The most of the counts go for full and free communication about this vital phase of adolescent life. REPORT SHOWS HATCHING GAIN

Orange county poultrymen will be interested in the poultry hatchery report for March, which has just been issued by the U. S. Bureau of agricultural economics, according to Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor.

All Time High

This report shows that although the number of chicks hatched in the United States in February reached an all time high for this month, egg set in February did not reach such a high comparative figure and March hatching 60 per cent more turkey poulties are expected to show only a 21 per cent increase over March, 1938, and that advance orders

Turkey Orders Up

The preliminary report of turkey hatchings indicates a great increase over hatching a year ago. Reports from a limited number of turkey hatcheries indicates that in February of this year 60 per cent more turkey poulties were hatched than in February of 1938 and that advance orders

as compared with a 25 per cent increase in February of this year over February of 1938.

The decrease in eggs set for February of 1939 is due, according to this report, to the sharp decrease in egg prices in early January. The reduced demand for baby chicks indicates fewer poults to be raised for fall egg production than was anticipated a few months ago and is a favorable factor for a reasonably good year for egg producers, Crane said.

Photos Exhibited At Laguna

LA GUNA BEACH, March 17.—An unusual exhibit of photography by Meade Herrick and Lawrence Kronquist, local camera experts, was featured yesterday at the Laguna Beach art gallery, where the current showing of pictures is attracting a heavy attendance. Miss Herrick and Mr. Kronquist, who work together, were guests of honor at the afternoon tea, sponsored by the Garden club, held at the gallery. Mrs. R. L. McCrea was hostess, aided by members of the Garden club and art association.

Engagement Of Daughter Told

LA HABRA, March 17.—To announce her engagement and coming marriage, Miss Maribel Frantz and her mother, Mrs. R. F. Frantz entertained Saturday afternoon at their home on North Fullerton Road with a bridge party. The home was decorated with sweet peas, stocks and other flowers from their own gardens, all in pastel shades. The engagement of Miss Frantz and her fiance, Charles E. Flannigan, were cleverly revealed in the talles which were distributed to the guests. Guests were members of three clubs of which the hostess is a member. Many lovely prizes were given at the close of the games and then refreshments carrying out the pastel motif were served.

Miss Frantz, a native daughter of La Habra is a graduate of Whittier college and is now teaching in the East Whittier Elementary school. Mr. Flannigan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Flannigan of El Monte, and is employed by the Union Oil company at Downey. The wedding will be an event of sometime in April.

Included on the guest list were Marty Shuman, Fern Miller, Jean Hopkins, Dorothy Messick, Evelyn Linstrum, Helen Stein, Evelyn Olson, Wilma Pemberton, Gerrie Wood, Virginia Houghton, Mrs. Enid Chapin, Mrs. Lena Jones, Mrs. Evelyn Standee, Mrs. Myra Bryson, Mrs. Betty Jones, Mrs. Ler and Miss Winona Swartzlander Julia Shidler, all of Whittier; Mrs. Myrtle Reno and Barbara Cook of Santa Monica; Miss Margaret Dawson of Fullerton; Lois Anderson and Thelma Jennings of Rosemead; June Wiede, Olga Kell, Miss Adeline Fink of Pico; Miss Shively of La Habra; Mrs. Madeline Deitrick of Placentia; Mrs. Edward Flannigan of El Monte and the two hostesses.
